

WRA Ltd Management Board Profile

Tim Williamson

Tim took early retirement in 2007 after 43 years with the Darlington Engineering company Whessoe. During that time he held positions as Project Manager, Contracts Manager and Sales Manager. He is a mechanical engineer with practical and theoretical skills and has commercial experience managing project costs and departmental budgets.

He is a volunteer in operations and engineering department of the Railway at Leeming Bar. He has repaired DMU engines and braking systems and carried out various repair and maintenance tasks on the Class 47 locomotives.

He is an active member of the Diesel Traction Group.